A new game joins us this issue...one which I call ENGLISH ACCENT! to differentiate it from its precursor EN GARDE! It is, in effect, a game of EN GARDE...with an ENGLISH ACCENT. Our gamemaster for ENGLISH ACCENT! will be Eric Olin. Eric has a flair for writing, with a turn of phrase that should amuse you. As a special introductory offer, all current subscribers may enter this game FREE! That's right, a FREE ON BOARD play for all current subscribers. This offer is also extended to individuals who are waiting for a DIPLOMACY game to start and are currently holding a suspended subscription, however, to use the free play they would, of course, have to turn their subscription on. To take advantage of this offer, you must respond by May 19, 1984, to either the publisher(that's me) or to LORD PRIVY SEAL, 30 LYNN COURT, DARIEN, CT, 06820. Once this offer expires, new players will be required to pay the usual $4 game fee to join, so, don't delay, send in your postcard or letter today telling us you want to join.

NOTES FROM THE JOURNAL OF THE ROYAL ZOOLOGICAL SOCIETY. - Edited by LORD HARRISON BURKE, Summer, 1831.

NOTE: ALL items in this column are RUMOR, therefore they are subject to error. No plate of information may be considered accurate until published by the explorer upon return to Europe.

- IN EUROPE

GUIDO VITTORIO SCONZINESE returns to Europe where he publishes an account of his travels in Africa. Guido chronicles his adventures in Africa in a book, "Sermons in the Wilds." He recounts his moving encounter with the warriors of the Suk Tribe. He tells how he impressed the chief by walking across a puddle. He managed to collect $900 and a free ticket to Capetown by conducting a Mass in Naples. It is rumored that he will be preaching a Mass in Rome next month.

- IN AFRICA

DR. NOTS G. NIVIL decides that it is time to finish his journey across Africa. Nots does not move this turn, although he spends the entire time walking, he does not get anywhere.

DR. HYPO GUY CEMIA arrives in Brass this turn, having returned to Africa with what, he hopes, will be a sufficient supply of Bon-Bons. He hopes to test a new receipe for Bon-Bons under the most severe conditions possible. His attempt to organize a camel expedition is met with resistance when he can not find a single camel in Brass. Appalled by this strange state of affairs, he spends the entire turn attempting to explain the effects of the encroachment of the desert on Brass. The local inhabitants have little success explaining to the good doctor that there is no desert within 300 miles of Brass.

ORTE'GO DE DAGO spends this turn studying the Mashonda Tribe. His hunters have no problem feeding his expedition.

ROBERT FROMAGE IV, having concluded that he has discovered the source of the Nile, decides to follow the river north. He moves into hex 275 which is a mountain hex with peaks of 19,000 ft. and a 180 ft. cataract. His hunters obtain 3 rations each.

MADEMOISELLE ROXY LARUE decides to hang out this turn and does not move. She, again, manages to feed herself, this turn.

PROF. HUMBERT HUMBERT decides that to move on he must cache 17 rations because his sick bearer dies. He moves on, following the river, into hex 450, a desert hex. The river continues on in direction 1. He discovers a 36ft. high cataract. By the river, Humbert is confronted by 24 warriors of the Wandorobo Tribe. Details of the incident are not known, but he approached the daughter of the chief in a very friendly and open manner, causing a very hostile reaction by the chief. A volley of fire by his Askaris caused the warriors to break. Humbert does manage to find the village. He discovers 3 rations in the village and his hunters obtain 3 rations each.

ALFRED H. McGUFFIN, remembering the young and innocent Rebecca, knows that beyond a shadow of a doubt he must cross Africa. He moves into hex 426, which is a jungle hex with a river source flowing in direction 5 into hex 425. Having found enough rations to feed himself and his Askaris, he sits spellbound, thinking of Marnie. McGuffin has a suspicion that he will not long have his job as a foreign correspondent. He tells his Askaris, "I confess that Mr. and Mrs. Smith were strangers on a train, but I thought that one must be a secret agent, or sabatour, I did not consider that one was a 'psycho'." McGuffin prepares to move on next turn.

Prof. O'FORAN is found dead in the native hut in which he was staying while recovering from a strange illness.

ARMY VICTORIOUS IN FIELD, DE SADE KILLED IN ACTION, COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC SAFETY LOSES APPOINTMENT, NEW ARRIVALS IN PARIS, FRONTENAC REFUSED ENTRANCE TO MOULIN ROUGE 5 TIMES.(GP)! Finally the Army has scored impressive victories over the Italians. The Frontier Regiments routed an attempted seige of a crucial border town. Highly noticable in the battle was General Lafayette who, despite a wonderful charge, neglected to follow up his advantage, finding the Italian supply wagons, with their cargo of wine, more interesting than the fleeing Italian army. The unfortunate Bezukhov, a dismal failure at military strategy, apparently mounted his horse backwards and, thinking he was charging the enemy led his battalion on a rapid advance to the rear. He has been seen lately drinking heavily. The Royal North Highland Border Regiment also accomplished a smashing victory catching an entire Italian Division totally by surprise and driving them into the sea. A notable casualty in the action was M. deSade who, following the Italians into the Mediterranean, belatedly discovered that he could not swim.

Meanwhile, back in Paris, M. Lafayette paid the price of spending so much time having fun out on campaign, when he was relieved of his appointment as Commissioner of Public Safety, having arrested and prosecuted no one during the last two seasons. M. Frontenac, having just won the beautiful Lucrece was extremely embarrassed this season as he attempted to take his new conquest to the Moulin Rouge but was told that someone of his Social Level was not considered fit for such a fine establishment. Frontenac was persistant, returning each week of April in hopes of being admitted. The disgruntled Lucrece was heard to exclaim, "Mon Dieu, is this all Frenchmen can think of to show a lady a good time? To beg at doors for a drop of wine." Two new arrivals in Paris, an unknown fellow in very ragged clothes and a M. Poisson, have been seen in and about Paris. M. Poisson bought an elegant horse which he named La Mer saying he felt very much at home on her. Fr. Santini also was purchasing fine horses which sufficiently impressed Mlle. Renee who has since been seen in M. Santini's company.

The Minister of State has decided to send the 1st, 3rd and 4th Brigades on Campaign for the upcoming Summer campaign season.

Players are reminded to submit the Summer 1618 En Garde moves not later than May 12, 1984 to THE KING, 206 SCHOOL STREET, FAIRFIELD, CT. 06430 or at the April meeting of the Connecticut Game Club.

FALL 1628

THE LONDON TATTLER

Vol. I No. 2

KING CREATES ROYAL COMMISSIONS - IRISH REVOLT SCATTERS ARMY - LORDS SUPPORT TAX HIKE - MYSTERIOUS ARREST NEAR WHITEHALL

After a brief Privy Council session at which two Royal Commissions were created by unanimous votes, HM began what was planned to be an extended vacation boating on the Thames and grousing at Balmoral. Unfortunately, the Scottish trip was cancelled when revolt broke out in Ireland, requiring the dispatch of an army (Horse, 1st, 2nd, 3rd Bdes, RMLI Regt) under the command of Brig. Sir Iau Paisley.

HM displeasure at the Lord Lieutenant can hardly have lessened when Paisley's army was scattered while besieging Dublin. Brig. Jones-Smythe was brilliant at the head of the Horse Bde in covering the retreat and has been made a Viscount. Maj. Stephen Weed of the RMLI was also knighted. Among the casualties: Brig. O'Rourke, 1st; Col. Pembroke, 7BR; Lt. Col. MacLeod, 51HR; Capts. Black (QD) and Roche (11NS). Mentioned in the dispatches: Col. Wells, QD; Maj. MacHenry, 51HR, and Capt. Hack, 7BR. The promotions list has been withheld by Whitehall amid rumours that the Royal Military Commission was displeased by a promotion to Lt. Gen for Brig Paisley.

was also knighted. Among the casualties: Brig. O'Rourke, 1st; Col. Pembroke, 7BR; Lt. Col. MacLeod, 51HR; Capts. Black (QD) and Roche (11NS). Mentioned in the dispatches: Col. Wells, QD; Maj. MacHenry, 51HR; and Capt. Hack, 7BR. The promotions list has been withheld by Whitehall amid rumours that the Royal Military Commission was extremely displeased by a promotion to Lt. Gen. for Brig. Paisley.

Political Notes: Commons will take up the tax increase in December, prospects for passage are dim...the Lords will consider anti-Papist measures...Star Chamber deliberations continue...Privy Council remains worried about the Army.

A new private in the Horse Guards was arrested outside the offices of Lord Privy Seal, dressed in mufti and carrying a sabre. Guardsmen, anxious to avoid a repetition of Buckingham's fate, hustled him off to Judge Grouch, who fined him £50 for disorderly conduct and carrying a concealed weapon. The private, a lad named Hambone, had left the Nonpareil Club for the Bagatelle in search of better cuisine, and claimed to be seeking HM permission to form some sort of theatrical troupe.

Social Notes: Young Percy Taffywacker, heir to the Taffywacker buggy-whip fortune, was seen dropping large sums at the gaming tables at the Bagatelle...Horatio Hornblower, a Darlestone lad, may have set something of a record by being rolled no less than four times by footpads in three months. Young Hornblower, who was seen becoming seasick while crossing London Bridge, expressed pleasure at moving up to a higher class of thief around the Scottish brothels in Soho...Pvt. O'Connor, serving in a Colonial Regiment at Dublin, was badly wounded in HM service and could not understand the ill treatment he received at the hands of his countrymen.

NOTICE: By permission of my Lord, the Earl of Whiskeyman, En Garde with an English Accent will now appear in the 'Zine. All new players are requested to fork over four bucks to play. Future orders will be accepted at monthly CGC meetings, or may be sent to:
